Van Adkins, who lives on Ed. Cecil's farm just east of town, cut his right shin bone very severely on Friday last while splitting staves, and has since been nursing the wound.

Several items are crowded out this issue because they did not come to hand earlier. All communications should come in not later than Monday to insure insertion in current issue.

WHEN SHE COMES BACK.

BY SAM WILSON.

In beauty will the blue skies glow,
The birds will gaily sing
Their merriest chimes from bough to bough
In one sweet welcome ring;
The mountains will be dressed in green
Without a mar or stain,
And brighter will the sunlight gleam
When she comes back again.
The crimson rose, the queen of flowers,
Shall with the violets wear
Their brightest, gayest plumage,
To greet her presence near.
The lilies will in whispers chant
Some pure and sweet refrain,
All nature will be happy then—
When she comes back again.

EXERCISES IN COMPOSITION

Among Pupils Under Prof. Noah Cisco at The Academy.

Creed Oney, Age 15, Hazel Green academy.

EVERY MAN HAS A DUTY TO PERFORM.

As we look around us we see that every man has a duty to perform. That is a work to do, a mission to fulfill. We see a man toiling patiently and earnestly on the farm earning his bread by the sweat of his brow—this is his duty he has to perform. We see men and women in all the vocations of life; some are poets, historians and orators; some are missionaries to foreign lands, carrying the gospel to the heathen—all having a duty to perform. The man is hidden in the child, and comes out by cultivation, who is to do some great work, to fill some mission. What shall our duty be? We ask ourselves this question when we leave school. Our first years are apt to be spent in disappointment, and we even wonder if we have any duty to do in this world; but the thing for us to do is to lay hold of work and be wise in the cost of time; the world is looking on us to see what we do with our time; no two of us has the same duty to perform. This ought to put an end to all this envy of life. Why should either of us be jealous of the other? We should not try to escape our duty or shirk from it, and above all, we should not fail to see our duty; that we are alive is proof that God has duty for us to perform. We should ask ourselves as we arise each morning, What is our duty today? We do not know where the influence of the day's work will end, each day is a task day. God put each fresh morning into our hands as a gift to see what we will do with it, and what we do today may depend success of our whole lives. So wisely improve the present—it is time.

Bert Johnson, age 12, Hazel Green academy.

EVERY MAN HAS A DUTY TO PERFORM.

Every man on earth has a duty to perform whether he performs it or not. If he had not a duty to perform he would have not been created. Some have one duty to do while others have others. You may have seen little children that were poor and thought to yourself what would this little boy or girl ever do, but always when they get to be young men and women they have always got a duty. But there is one duty that every one ought to perform, and that is to do right and try to get others to do so. But some people have better duties than others, and get better wages, but it is because they have worked harder than others; and if we have but just a little of anything we should be thankful for what we have got and then we will do better. For nearly always the people that have got the most money are nearly all the time afraid they are going to lose something, and they are always trying to take money in but never want to give any out. So we must not think that there is no duty for us for there is always something for us to do, and when we are little we should know what we are going to do, and try to prepare ourselves for it. So never be frightened because we have not got more and always be ready to give to the poor, and if we will always try to do anything and not give up we will always do it, for where there is a will there is a way.

THE HERALD and Monthly World one dollar a year, in advance.

Costs of Thousands of Dollars.

The Morning Herald claims to be the leading paper of the Blue Grass, and it makes good its claim by publishing a strictly first-class paper, giving all the news, publishing as able editorials as any paper in America, and constantly doing something to be of service to and make itself valuable to its subscribers. In answer to a frequent demand for a good map of Kentucky, it ordered enough to justify a great publishing house in getting out a special map of Kentucky, which The Herald is giving to every new subscriber who pays six months in advance. It must cost The Herald several thousand dollars to do this, but it will be a paying investment for it in the long run, for every one who wants a first-class map will take advantage of the opportunity, and whoever becomes familiar with The Herald is sure to continue to subscribe for it.

Every Movement Hurts
When you have rheumatism, Muscles are stiff and sore and joints are painful. Hood's Sarsaparilla goes right to the spot in this disease, neutralizes the acidity of the blood and radically cures. Accept no substitute.

"Just Put the Other Down."

Green Taulbee of this school district has two boys just now in the school age that are out of the ordinary in more ways than in looks. They are just past six years of age, look exactly alike and wear a No. 7 hat. When the school census was being taken, the gentleman asked Mr. Taulbee how many he had in the age and was told that he had seven. After giving the names of the five oldest, he gave in Andrew Homer as being 6 years past and immediately told of another whom he called Homer Andrew. The census enumerator said to him, "Hold on, Mr. Taulbee, they must be over six years of age, and you have just told of one in that age." Green replied, "That's all right, you put the other one down," and then it dawned on the census man that they were twins in all particulars.

Jim Tom Goes to Kansas.

Rev. Jim Tom Pieratt will on Friday start for Parker, Kansas, where he has accepted a call to preach. But first he will visit his brother-in-law, James Cox, who lives in Kansas near Waco, Mo., with whom he will visit for a few weeks before going into active service. Jim Tom lived in Kansas for two years prior to 1900, and fell in love with the sunflower state because he enjoyed such perfect health, a blessing that has been denied him here. Indeed his health here has been most wretched as he has suffered with rheumatism, bad colds, stomach trouble, &c. We voice his friends when we express the hope that he will regain his health in his new home and retain it.

Bacon Stolen.

Cal Cundiff of Laurel, while visiting relatives and friends in Breathitt county recently had his smokehouse broken into and a ham and three middling sides stolen. Monday night he came here and secured search warrants for his bacon, and from what could be learned suspicion points to certain brothers of unsavory reputations who live in his neighborhood. If the bacon be found the guilty parties will be tried before his honor, Judge Pieratt, and the particulars of the trial will be in THE HERALD. This petty thieving should be broken up, as it is one step toward civilization that we do not care to take.

The New Academy.

Mr. Howard of the firm of Clark & Howard, contractors, is here this week superintending the building of the academy. He brought with him another bricklayer and hod carrier, both colored, which makes the force six in all, three masons and three helpers. With this force, if the weather continues propitious, the walls will be completed within three weeks. There are 90 windows in the three stories, about 30 to each floor, so there can not possibly be complaint about light.

For the information of our readers we state that as yet there is no express agent at Helechwah, but the agent at Cannel City writes us, that all express matter will be returned to Helechwah upon request. In two or three weeks an agent will be at the latter place, and then Hazel Green people can be accommodated.
